Suicide Order Given Air Force On Pantelleria

Axis High Command Orders
Defenders To Die In Defense Of Island

AXIS EXPECTING INVASION MOVE

By LEO V. DOLAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 8.—The Axis high command, desperately attempting to hold off what it regards as an imminent Allied invasion at some point along the Mediterranean, was disclosed today to have issued a "suicide order" to the air forces on tiny Pantelleria Island to beat off Allied raids at any cost.

The order was said to have been issued to the defenders of Pantelleria, island fortress 45 miles off the tip of Cap Bon, Tunisia, by Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, Axis air commander in the Mediterranean.

Expected Joint Attack
Simultaneously reports from the continent said that the Germans now expect a joint attack against Norway by Soviet forces from the east and sea-borne Allied troops from the west as part of the campaign to invade the occupied continent.

(A Melbourne dispatch to Reuters quoted Air Vice Marshal Adrian Trevor Cole, air advisor of the combined staff which controlled the Allied commando raid on Dieppe last August 19 as declaring that "a landing on the French coast is not only possible but probable before long.")

As the Germans and Italians became increasingly anxious over the possibility of a large-scale attack in the Mediterranean, it was said, the Axis high command directed that additional fighter plane squadrons be dispatched to that theater immediately from other fronts.

Withdrawing Troops
Italy was reported to be withdrawing troops from Albania to reinforce positions between Durazzo and Valona.

A purge of Fascist party officials accompanied the Italian excitement over the possible early landings either on the mainland or the bomb and shell-battered islands of Pantelleria, Sicily and Sardinia.

Immediately after the reported removal of Gen. Ezio Rossi as commander-in-chief of the Italian army because of suspicion that he was involved in a plot against Mussolini, (Continued On Page Two)

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The next United Nations blow at Axis-held Europe drew continuously closer today with the return to the United States of Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, from strategy conferences in North Africa.

Speculation ran high regarding the target of the next Allied offensive thrust with some sources predicting an invasion of the continent but other informed quarters insisting that the assault would be directed against the Italian Mediterranean islands.

Nineteen Zeros Are Shot Down

Americans Also Lose Seven
Planes In Furious
Air Battle Over
Solomons

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Destruction of 19 Japanese Zeros and loss of seven American planes in a furious aerial dog fight over the southern Solomons was announced today by the navy.

The battle occurred during the morning of June 7 when approximately 40 or 50 Japanese Zero fighter planes and torpedo bombers were attacked by U. S. fighter planes in the vicinity of Russell Island near Guadalcanal.

"Nineteen Zeros were shot down and six damaged," the navy said. "U. S. losses were seven planes, but three of the pilots were saved."

The navy also announced that an additional eight Japanese were killed by American forces on Attu Island in the Aleutians and that 11 members of the enemy killed themselves with hand grenades after being surrounded by American forces.

The Japanese were killed yesterday somewhere in the Chichagof valley on Attu Island which American forces invaded and recaptured from the enemy last month.

Developments In Coal Crisis

Hope For Speedy Settlement
Dimmed By Threatened
Negotiations
Collapse

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Hope for a speedy settlement of the coal-war crisis was dimmed today by the threatened collapse of direct negotiations between the mine operators and the United Mine Workers.

With the conferences resuming at 10 a. m. E. W. T. the union's implied warning of a third national strike, if a new contract is not signed by June 20, grew more ominous in the face of developments of the past 24 hours. These included:

1. Edward R. Burke, attorney for the Southern Coal Operators, said he saw no chance of an agreement in the collective bargaining conferences between the operators and miners while the war labor board of the dispute to John L. Lewis repeated his offer to sign a contract on the basis of $1.50 daily for underground travel upon resumption of the negotiations after a six-day strike. The operators declined this offer and refused to make any counter-proposal.

2. W. L. B. sources predicted that the board would not approve a contract reached on the basis of the $1.50 portal-to-portal payment. W. L. B. Chairman William Davis previously warned the miners and operators against "hidden wage increases," although endorsing "gentle" portal pay.

3. Petroleum coordinator for war Ickes sent a telegram to Lewis demanding that both miners and operators act "to the end that there be no interruption of work . . . so that the nation can be assured of the supply of coal which it needs."

He told Lewis, in the message, that the strike had cost the nation 11,000,000 tons of coal and provided a threat to warm homes next winter.

Re-submission of the case to the W. L. B. would be certain to bring serious complications, Lewis said, and again has defied the board, assailed it as prejudiced against the miners and refused to appear before a panel hearing on the coal dispute.

Pantelleria Is Again Blasted

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, June 8.—Smoke clouds reaching heights as great as 4,000 feet above the ground, hung over the Axis island of Pantelleria and drifted almost to the Sicilian coast today after the enemy bastion was rocked once again by Allied bombers.

American Flying Fortress, for the third time since June 1, participated with other strategic and tactical air force planes in pummeling the Axis base yesterday in a terrific raid.

The Nazi air force vigorously challenged the raiding formations, including even the formidable fortresses, and in the ensuing dog-fights the big Boeing B-17s shot down six enemy fighters.

Aerial Warfare Dominates On Russian Front

Soviet Force Hits Nazis Another Devastating Blow
From Skies Says
Moscow

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, June 8.—The exchange of heavy aerial blows between Soviet and German air forces continued today to dominate the war activity on the Russian front.

The Red Army air force hit the Nazis another devastating blow from the skies, it was disclosed when they conducted a mass raid Sunday night against the rail center of Ucheha in the Orel region. The Germans in turn attempted to bomb the Soviet Volga river industrial center of Gorki, 250 miles east of Moscow.

Blast Dumps And Trains
In the Soviet assault on Ucheha the Red Army bombers blasted munitions and supply dumps and trains. Terrific explosions resulted when bombs crashed down upon fuel and munitions stores and the base was set ablaze with many fires.

The Germans struck at Gorki with about 100 planes, 12 of which were reported shot down. None of the Russian interceptors planes was lost. Some damage and casualties were acknowledged, but it was said that most of the hostile craft were dispersed before they reached the target.

Third President Within Four Days Rules In Argentina

(International News Service)

After he took the oath yesterday as president, Gen. Ramirez's new cabinet enunciated a policy pledging neutrality to "loyal cooperation" with other American countries but continued neutrality "to the rest of the world."

Admirals Have War Conference

Secretary Knox Reveals Recent Meeting Of Admirals
King And Nimitz

PACIFIC BLOW AT
JAPS MAY DEVELOP

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Coinciding with Gen. George C. Marshall's return from conferences in North Africa, Secretary of the Navy Knox today disclosed that Admiral Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet had conferred with his top ranking officer in the Pacific.

The secretary declined at his press conference to go into details regarding the meeting on the west coast between King and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of America's Pacific fleet. He indicated, however, that the two ranking naval officers discussed United Nations global strategy which was outlined at the recent meetings between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England.

The conferences between Marshall and United Nations leaders in North Africa and King and Nimitz on the Pacific coast raised the possibility that the United States was planning simultaneous blows against Japan on one side and Germany and Italy on the other.

Nimitz's presence on the Pacific coast was disclosed when he made a surprise appearance at the University of California's annual commencement exercises at Berkeley, Calif., at that time, however, it was not revealed that King was on the west coast.

Knox was asked by reporters whether King and Marshall were carrying reports to their field officers on the recent British-American conferences in Washington. "Possibly that would be one very good explanation," Knox replied. "Disclosure by the war department that Marshall had returned from a visit 'overseas' increased speculation that final preparations had been completed for a new blow at Axis-held Europe."

In an interview following a conference with Secretary of State Cordell Hull, the cultured young Ethiopian statesman said his people would welcome the opportunity of repaying Italy for the conquest in 1936 of the African kingdom whose emperor claims to be a direct descendant to King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba.

Weather Worst Foe Of American Troops In Attu

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Fighting the weather in the Attu campaign was a tougher job than fighting the Japs, many of the 395 Army casualties newly arrived at Letterman General hospital declared today.

More than 50 per cent of the casualties have frostbitten feet, the cold weather and the excessively wet climate of the frostbitten known producing a type of frostbite known medically as immersion foot. The soldiers have simplified the name to "invasion foot," but it's a worse foe than the Japs.

Stories of the returned soldiers universally concerned the weather.

GEN. MARSHALL AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 8.—President Roosevelt called Gen. George C. Marshall to the White House to hear the Army chief of staff's report on Marshall's trip to North Africa to reportedly map European invasion plans.

Can Collection Record Here

Pupils In Schools Collect
1,839,263 Tin Cans In
23 Weeks It Is Revealed

For twenty three weeks the school children of New Castle, the townships and borough of Lawrence County with the exception of Ellwood City have been saving tin cans and today the totals of the campaign were announced by Ross D. Rosenberger, chairman of the Lawrence County Salvage Committee.

In the 23 weeks the school children, representing a population of about 85,000, have collected 1,839,263 tin cans, which means approximately two tons of precious block tin recovered from the cans. The tin goes into making guns, tanks and the like and the tin is used in soldering electrical connections in war implements.

Unusual Record FIRST IN NATION

So far as is known no community in the United States with twice or three times the population of this country has ever approached this record and the Office of War Information has asked for a complete case history of the campaign here.

When the tin can collection was asked for by the War Production Board, Mr. Rosenberger and Numa F. Vidal, of the local salvage committee believed the school children could do a better job in such a campaign than could their elders. Their confidence has been more than justified.

A plan was evolved whereby any school turning in 100 per cent collection and the highest average per pupil per week would be given a "Tin Can Champ" pennant. Three consecutive weeks won permanent possession of the pennant and gold star were added for other series of three weeks.

Operations On Intense Scale Are Promised

Prime Minister Churchill
Tells Commons Of Coming
Violent War Activity

U. S. AND BRITAIN
UNITED ON PLAN

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, June 8.—A ringing promise of "intense and violent" action against Germany was given by prime minister Winston Churchill to the House of Commons today.

In the course of a long report emphasizing complete agreement between Great Britain and the United States on measures to smash the Axis, Churchill disclosed that amphibious operations "of peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching."

This was followed almost immediately by an Axis claim that a British over-water expedition against the small Italian island of Lampedusa in the Mediterranean had been attempted and repulsed.

Rome radio reports limited the attack was a full-blown invasion attempt. The Berlin radio termed it a commando raid, but admitted that unengaged numbers of British troops had gained a temporary foothold on the island—their such thrust against the sea barriers that comprise part of metropolitan Italy.

At the same time the Nazi-operated Vichy radio broadcast a bulletin which said:

Expect Offensive On Italy
"A British and American offensive against Italy may be expected at any moment."

The German wireless report on Lampedusa said:

"The first allied attempt to land on an Italian island in the Mediterranean has been warded off. . . . British troops attempted a commando raid of Lampedusa during the night. The Italian garrison repulsed the attackers. Several allied landing craft were sunk and allied troops which succeeded in getting on land were destroyed."

Churchill's speech, which embraced the whole world's war theatres, emphasized the following points:

CHARGES RITA FAILS TO PAY

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, June 8.—Rita Hayworth, current glamour queen of movies, today stood accused of failing to pay her divorced husband, Edward C. Judson, a $500 monthly settlement for two years.

Judson, 47, former mate and business manager of the actress, filed suit in superior court to collect $12,000 which he charged she promised as a property settlement.

Miss Hayworth made four monthly payments of $500 and then defaulted, Judson said in his complaint. Under terms of an agreement, he now is eligible to recover the sum in lump amount, the suit asserted.

Among things it's good to see—cats with "You Are Welcome To Ride" stickers on their windshields like the one that was parked on East Falls street Monday afternoon.

Going through the city on Monday afternoon, a small truck, carrying Virginia license plates appeared well fortified with gasoline coupons. The stickers on the windshield called for A, C, and T rations of gasoline.

Sandbags which have been in use as anti-air raid protection at the New Castle control center for months, are being renewed. The weather played havoc with the sand bags due to excessive rain storms during weeks past.

Another boost for Shenango pottery comes from Seaman 2-C Andy Keller, of Philadelphia, Pa., who is stationed in the South Pacific. Seaman Keller, in a letter to Miss June Coulter, of North Beaver street states that he is eating from Shenango Pottery, and says that the people back home here should be proud of its product, as it is of high quality, and is serving the navy very satisfactorily.

"We do not wish to take up much time due to the fact that the Ellis of New Castle are presenting their impressive flag day exercises on the public square. These exercises are beautiful and should be seen to be appreciated. Our portion in the program will be short. That is the extent of the presentation exercises."
The coming of the two men "suicide sub" which was captured at Pearl Harbor is attracting attention here. New Castle is one of the cities in this district to get the sub and it will be on display in front of the post office in the evening of June 14. The purchase of a broad ray day between now and June 14th or on the public square the night of the display gets five tickets for a close inspection of the sub. A $2 purchase of stamps on the square gets an individual ticket for an adult, fifty cents worth gets a ticket for a youngster between 12 and 18 and 25 cents worth gets a ticket for a child under 12.

MAY EXTEND DRIVING BAN

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Extension of the east coast pleasure driving ban to the rest of the nation loomed as a strong possibility today as the government moved against the gasoline black market.

Petroleum Administrator Harold I. Ickes has said that further restrictions on the use of gasoline including the pleasure driving ban in other parts of the nation might be necessary. Ickes may appear before the congressional group Thursday to shed further light on the situation.

Meanwhile, the office of price administration made a new blow at the gasoline black market by announcing that ration books for commercial vehicles will be changed when current coupons expire.

amphibious undertakings, have been fitted into their proper place in relation to the general war.

2—Complete agreement prevails between Great Britain and United States on "forward steps" to defeat the Axis.

3—The sudden Axis collapse in Tunisia is characteristic of the German spirit "but no undue expectations should be placed in it."

4—Allied bombing of Axis targets will be continued relentlessly, regardless of propaganda and pressure from any source.

5—The Axis, which banked on air strength for victory, is now being worn down by the very arm on which it based hopes of triumph.

6—Vast progress had been made in allied warfare against U-boats.

Complete Agreement

During his recent conferences in Washington, the prime minister said, complete agreement was reached on all steps to be taken and allied commanders in North Africa have drawn up plans to apply force against the enemy "in its most intense and violent form."

The British premier's statement was made to a packed House of Commons in his first address since returning to London after his talks in May with President Roosevelt and subsequent meetings with military leaders in North Africa.

He said he would make no predictions for the future but hinted that allied invasion of Axis territory was not far distant.

"It is evident," he said, "that amphibious operations of peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching."

Then he added: "I can give no guarantee on what will happen. I have good hopes that neither parliament nor congress will find themselves ill-served by their forces whether from the British islands or the African shore."

Greatest Nazi Disasters

Churchill declared that the Nazi defeats at Stalingrad and in Tunisia were the greatest military disasters which ever have befallen Germany.

From the statements of prisoners, he said, Hitler expected the Tunisia army to hold out at least until August.

"The suddenness of the collapse must be regarded as significant and in a sense a characteristic of the German psychology generally after the last war."

But no undue expectations should be placed in it.

"We are prepared to win this war by hard fighting and if necessary hard fighting alone."

"Operations now impending in the European theater have been fitted into their proper place in relation to the general war."

Russia Battle Center

"Those guilty of trumpeting the glories of war at the beginning may well be extolling the virtues of peace at the end and would it not be right that those who fix on their own terms the moment for the beginning of the war should also fix on their own terms the moment for ending them?"

Stating that 190 German and 28 satellite divisions are on the Russian front, he said: "It is there that the greatest battle is now impending."

He promised that nothing will deter the allies from their bombing of the Axis nations.

"It is necessary," he said, "that we make plain, as far as the British, dominion, United States and Russian governments are concerned, that nothing will turn us from our endeavor and intention to accomplish the complete destruction of our foes by bombing from the air in addition to all other means."

Axis Losing In Air

Churchill said that the loss of air superiority by the Germans and Japanese is making steady inroads on the enemy.

"The steady wearing down of the German and Japanese air forces is proceeding relentlessly," he said.

"The enemy who thought the air would be their weapon of victory are now finding it is the first cause of their ruin."

The premier was given a tremendous ovation as he entered the house and made his way to the front bench amid rousing rounds of applause.

The house was packed as Churchill entered. Present in the diplomatic gallery were American Ambassador John G. Winant, Soviet Ambassador Ivan Maisky and the Spanish, Egyptian and Polish ambassadors.

Mrs. Churchill sat in the place of honor in the speaker's gallery.

"As the allied war effort passes into the offensive," the prime minister said in opening, "as its scale and pace has grown continually more frequent consultations between the staffs and those concerned with high control become necessary."

"At Washington the entire expanse of the world war on which the mellow light of victory now begins to play, was laid open to British and American leaders."

AERIAL WAFARE DOMINATES ON RUSSIAN FRONT

noon communiqué reported ground activity both north and south of Kharkov on the southern front but little else of military importance took place during last night.

West of Kursk in the Sevsk area the communiqué said, Soviet artillery shelled an enemy column and annihilated two companies of Nazi infantry. A German ammunition dump also was blown up.

Nazis Thrown Back

In the Belgorod area northwest of Kharkov the Germans attacked Soviet defenses but were thrown back after a hand-to-hand battle during which 60 Nazis were slain.

Around Balaklava, on the Donets river front south of Kharkov, the Russians frustrated several German attempts to cross to the left bank of the northern Donets. The official bulletin said 190 Germans were killed in the fight, bringing to 200 the number of Nazis slain on this sector in 24 hours. Previously the enemy had lost 100 men in a small-scale tank and infantry attack.

A German reconnaissance group was repulsed west of Rostov at the lower end of the southern front.

On the central front west of Moscow 300 Germans were said to have been killed in ship clashes and three blockhouses were destroyed. A reconnaissance attempt also was repulsed.

Soviet aircraft operating over the Gulf of Riga sank a German transport while other planes patrolling over the Black Sea sank three barges and five motor launches carrying troops, the high command said.

SUICIDE ORDER GIVEN AIR FORCE ON PANTELLERIA

It was said, a number of party officials were expelled for "frequenting luxurious establishments" instead of devoting themselves to defense. Others reportedly were ousted because they were "lacking in all manly Italian feelings."

Advices from Europe said that the Italians are quaking before the mighty military machine drawn up by the Allies along the entire north African coast line. These forces include, besides formidable American and British armies, French, Polish and Greek units eager to avenge what the Axis had done to their homelands.

FAITH NEXT-WEEK-ITIS!

New Castle has been having, and is gradually getting more cases of a serious disease. It has never been named, but we would call it "Next-Week-itis." If a man wants to get anything done, and goes to most any of our mechanics or men engaged in business to get it done, it is the same old story, "We will do it next week."

If there ever was a time that everyone should work overtime, regardless of what the custom has been previously, it is now. And, if this was done, it would be one of the things that would help cure this disease.

When the boys in the trenches meet the enemy, they do not tell them to wait until next week, but do it now. That should be our slogan, regardless of what time it is, or how many hours we have to overwork.

I know of no business or profession that has lost any more of their help to the army, than the medical profession and the Funeral Directors. But, what would the public say, if they needed the services of either of these professions, and they would get the answer: "We will do it next week."

We seriously hope that it will not take another depression in order to cure this very serious disease that is holding back the winning of the war and the welfare of future America.

Frank Sinatra, peer of popular vocalists has a fine arrangement of "The Song Is You". Sinatra has been badly hooded in "Life" and several current magazines—for his individual style—hear "The Song Is You".

Music is the mental vitamin.
Buy more war bonds to bring that service man home sooner.

We are hoping to have that latest release of Tommy Dorsey this week—"Melody". In this Tommy has been put on Red Seal along with Stokowski, Boston Pops and many artists... the smooth, liquid tones of the trombone have never been so mellow from Dorsey as in this arrangement.

Brahm's piano works are typical in the album of "Intermezzi and Rhapsodies" by Artur Schnabel. Technically quite difficult without seeming so to the listener, these compositions are filled with melodious thirds and sixths on the minor side. Rubinstein has not played these with the idea of glory to himself but as Brahms should be played—these are recordings highly satisfying—$893.

HE NEEDS MORE THAN A REGIMENT

TO THE tens of thousands of French youths now confined in Germany either as prisoners of war or slave laborers are to be added at least 200,000 more by July 11, according to the latest Nazi decree, including the whole military class of 1942.

This latter group is to be called up not for defense of the fatherland but for labor service in exile, working for the hated enemy. To make sure they do not escape, German-enforced conscription laws, with harsh penalties, are to be enforced.

Directing this latest humiliation imposed on his people by the conqueror will be, naturally, the Nazi puppet Laval. It is interesting to note that he issues the labor-draft decree coincidentally with the announcement that he has been authorized—by his masters—to form the first regiment of a new French Army.

He does not mention a division or even a brigade—just a regiment. The difficulty of raising a force of Frenchmen under his swastika-studded banner, even with the lure of escaping labor duty in Germany, is apparently evident to Laval.

The head of the Vichy government won't be the first traitor to have a bodyguard, of course, but the French people must be watching with keenest interest the formation of the Laval Regiment. We can only shudder, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, in anticipation of the fate in store for it if and when it ever runs foul of the French armies now straining at the leash in North Africa for a dash into the homeland.

Laval will need more than his personal regiment to save him when the day of invasion—the day of reckoning—arrives.

A GASOLINE PUZZLE

The other day we were buttonholed by a neighbor who had just driven his car to the grocer's and back. This, as you know, is considered a legitimate use of gasoline under the new rulings. "What I don't understand," said our puzzled friend, "is how it saves gas and tires to forbid the stores to make more than a certain number of deliveries, when at the same time the customer can go and get the stuff. Take the fellow I deal with. Say he lays up one truck for one day. All right, that's an economy. But 200 families run the old bus out of the garage, and make the trip to market and back. On the face of it, that's using up more rubber and more gasoline than the merchant could possibly save in a week. Where's the sense in that?"—Paul Jones' "Candid Shots" column, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

CONFLICTING FIGURES

The Wall Street Journal points out a mysterious discrepancy between Treasury Department figures on Victory tax collections and the Department of Commerce figures on wage and salary payments.

The Treasury Department figures indicate that the Victory tax was collected on income of about $2,000,000,000 a month during the first quarter. The Department of Commerce recently estimated that wage and salary payments in January and February amounted to $7,500,000,000 a month. There is a basic exemption for the Victory tax, but as the Wall Street Journal calculates, there would have to be 105,000,000 wage and salary earners coming under the Victory tax to make up for the discrepancy between the two figures.

What the explanation is must be left to Washington. Have government estimators been too optimistic in their figures on national income? Or has the Victory tax failed to reach billions of that income?

FARM FLOOD LOSS

The public has no adequate understanding of the seriousness of the effect on the general food supply of the visitation the Central West has had from floods this spring. The wheat losses caused by the inundation of millions of acres of farm land will not be felt immediately, but loss to the corn and oats crops and the milk output caused by high water should cause serious concern.

In Illinois alone 1,257,698 acres went under water. Reports show that 363,474 acres of corn, wheat and oats were wiped out. Dairy cattle have been barred from soft pastures, causing a heavy reduction in milk output. In the Chicago milk shed production is down sharply compared with this season last year.

Corn leads among the cereal losses. In this grain 181,500 acres have been lost, now difficult to replant because of manpower shortage. This acreage was expected to produce 10,000,000 bushels. Wheat losses are estimated to total 136,910 and oats 68,044 acres. This was the crop toll of floods in one state. Half a dozen others suffered heavy damage. The prospect for record crops this year, previously all but non-existent, has been definitely shattered.

MEAT PROBLEMS

Tightening of beef rations for civilians points to a less rosy supply situation in that classification of the red meats to which the American public is partial. Favorites are beef and pork, with beef outranking pork. Mutton is liked in some areas, but on the whole it is a poor third.

The grain on beef is felt first because it ranks highest in consumption at home and because it is more adaptable for shipment abroad under lend-lease aid to American and Allied military forces. Dehydration and other methods of preservation for long ocean shipments have been more highly developed in beef than in any other meats.

The feed situation is a decided bottleneck in the program to expand beef production. It is still a question whether the feed will be available for expanded herds when the pastures dry up next autumn. Planners already have their eyes on increasing cereal and other crop production for food and cutting down the amounts diverted to feed. That would curtail the supply of meat.

Several schemes are under consideration for lowering civilian meat consumption. One proposal is to allow less meat on juvenile ration cards, the theory being that children need less. Lumberjacks, miners and others engaged in heavy manual labor are demanding more red meat. People who dine out to save meat at home may come in for attention.

Farmers who kill their own beef are recognized as unusually heavy consumers, but no planner has come forward with a scheme to stop them. The farmer today is the only remaining American individualist.

Hitler may go into one of his rages when he hears that the wheat harvest is already under way in Oklahoma.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOME HELPS FOR SCHOLARS

When a child fails or lags at school, we parents usually place the blame on him or his teacher or both, rarely on ourselves. In these days when very low or failing grades come home, many parents charge the child with not having tried or worked hard enough. Many parents beat him or abuse him in some other way.

In the last analysis, as measured over the years, perhaps the parent should take the blame, even though he had always tried conscientiously to do the very best by the child.

Any way, before any reader lets himself scold or punish his child who brings home a low or failing report card, he should sit down calmly, preferably with the other parent, and do some careful, serious thinking.

If you have a child who has failed, or barely passed this last school term, let me entreat you to put no trust in venting your emotions on him. Instead, please consider that your problem now is to find a way to help this child do better at school from now on. First you want him not to dwell on his failure remorsefully but to look hopefully ahead to a way to greater school success. You will want to have assurance from a medical expert that your child is physically well, that he has not been handicapped by poor sight or hearing.

Seek Out Experts

Then you will try to find out from his teacher and other learning experts just where his difficulties have been and specific ways to help him overcome them. If any teacher merely tells you the child is lazy and indifferent, insist on more definite reasons. What is back of these? Has he reading difficulty, for example? In case he reads poorly, he can hardly be expected to work very hard at reading or on subjects which consist chiefly of reading. If he is a miserable speller or poor at arithmetic, he won't normally work enthusiastically at these subjects.

My "Home Helps for Poor Spellers," "Home Helps for Poor Readers," and "I and II" may be had by sending a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp to 235 East 45th Street, New York City.

Your older child might have neglected to do his home work at a regular time and place. He might not have been home at night to do it. Your problem is to see to it that your child shall cultivate day-by-day homework responsibility. In hundreds of other ways you may have been responsible, through your emotional expression, especially when he works at lessons, for his success or failure. Besides, no matter how smart their parents are, some children are just naturally slow learners.

Solving Parent Problems

Q Do insane parents, other adults and youths who are sent to a mental hospital, really ever return cured?

A Yes, the majority of those sent there in time return permanently cured.

Q Do you think it safe for the mother to leave a sleeping child alone in the house long enough to go shopping?

A I do not. The greatest danger is that he might awaken in her absence and grow seriously frightened at being left alone.

THE YARN OF THE CORNER STORE

(With apologies to W. S. Gilbert) Inside the door of a corner store Which has been since the war began A shop for meat and things to eat, I discovered the grocery man.

"Are you ill?" I asked, for his face Was pale.
"Just tired," was the sad reply.
"It is over-work, for boy and clerk And boss of the place am I.

"That bo-sun tight who was mid-shipmite And mate of a brig at sea, And cook and crew of the vessel, too, Had nothing at all on me.

"I'm many in one, since the war came on. Philosopher, lawyer, sage, A speech I make when they can't have steak, And all for a single wage.

"I'm counter of points for chops and joints, For salmon and French sardines, I must stop to teach how many for peach And how many for corn and beans.

"Now I never laugh and I never smile, As I did in the days before, My hair's gone gray, I and I rue the day."

I opened this grocery store."

Hints On Etiquette

If you are a friend's house guest and you have an outside invitation that does not include your hostess, consult her about it. If she has nothing planned for that time, she may be glad to have you accept the invitation. If she has, it may upset her plans to have you do so. At any rate, her home is not an hotel, so should not be used as if it were. She should be treated with courtesy.

Sun sets tonight 8:26. Sun rises tomorrow 5:31.

In many places where men post office employees have been called in to the service, their wives have been given their jobs. And that is a good idea.

It's a fine compliment when an employee leaves his job and his employer tells him he is sorry to see him leave and that he is a good man.

When you get to the end of your rope, tie a knot and hang on.

Rationing stockings would not affect some gals very much. It would give them a real excuse for going without any.

Angry Man at Tax Office: "Why do you tax me $3.00 for my coat? That's more than I paid for him or what I could get if I offered him for sale."

Tax Adjuster: "Well, keep him out of the street. The law says: 'For private possessions bounding and a-butting on public property, $2.00 a running foot.'"

Generally, bread has always been supposed to be the "staff of life". Or was until people discovered the potato shortage.

When we hear some big government official remark: "I have nothing to say," it looks serious.

She had just completed her spring housecleaning, her carpets were spotless and her floors glistened, so to hubby, who had spent the afternoon in the victory garden, and was now halfway upstairs to get into some clean clothes, she called: "Dear, are your feet clean?" "Yes, dear," said he wearily, "it's only my boots that are dirty."

It may be hard repeating that out our way when it's boiled cabbage nobody asks what's cooking?

We hope the paying of high taxes will not be the worst thing we have to meet.

NEVER CAN TELL

A psychiatrist, consultant on the staff of a large asylum, visited an inmate in solitary confinement and found the inmate wearing nothing at all—except a top hat.

"Bear come no clothes?" asked the psychiatrist.

"Well, I'm warm enough and then, too, nobody ever comes to see me here in solitary, so why bother to dress?"

"That seems reasonable," the psychiatrist conceded, "it's even safe. Only, why are you wearing the hat?"

"Oh," said the inmate, "you never can tell. Somebody might come!"

Inside Washington

Churchill Popular With Capital Solons
Some Like Him Better Than The President
Is Referred To By All As "Good Fellow"

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

Congressional comparisons between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill are not, in general, a bit flattering to our own chief executive. That is to say, I think it is a safe bet that a sizable majority of Washington's lawmakers like Winnie, personally, better than they do Franklin D. They associate with the former, when he is available, on friendlier terms.

Of course, there is a group of the legislators whose relations with the White House tenant are exceedingly close. As a broad proposition however, Capitol Hill isn't overly enthusiastic for Franklin on a back-slapping basis. Winnie is referred to as a "good fellow" in the first place.

That F. D. R. is entitled to 100 per cent congressional support in connection with his war leadership is not questioned for a minute. Some of his methods are criticized but not his central authority—for an instant. Yet fault-finding with his original New Dealishness is noticeably on the increase, even among some of his earlier followers.

There is a disposition, in short, to adopt precautions toward prevention of a possible stop-over of New Dealism into subsequent peace times. It is a sentiment that is not confined to strict conservatives, either. It is endorsed by quite a few Democrats, as well as by a pretty solid alignment of Republicans.

A diagnosis of the situation implies that Franklin D. has aroused antagonism to himself, by a patronizing attitude toward the government's lawmaking branch.

He has treated them, the lawmakers, manifestly think like school children. He has "talked down" to them. He has regarded them as juniors, if not inferiors—or so a lot of them evidently think.

Now, Winston Churchill met them as fellow-folk with himself.

Before he had been here long, he began giving them war information that F. D. R. had not deemed it judicious to trust them with. They heard things from him, concerning American war operations, that F. D. R. previously had kept coked up.

It was kind of irritating to be told by a British prime minister, for the first time, what WE had been doing all along.

It wasn't the first time, either. We have had plenty of American war news before that had to reach us by way of London. Briefly, their censorship covers US.

The nub of it is that Winston Churchill is rated in Washington

International News Service Staff Writer
Well we were talking to a fellow who is a buyer for a big store and he said "I am very optimistic for the four freedoms but right now I would like to locate four diapers."

He says the government cut diaper production down 90 per cent evidently not having heard that the stock has increased his production.

He says "practically everybody but the government knows that during a war, more people get married, there are more babies born and there is more need for more diapers."

We said weren't there any diapers around in storage anywhere and he smiled bitterly and said there was a story that lend-lease shipped 'em all off to Africa and the natives are wearing 'em for turbans.

He cautioned us that maybe the story was exaggerated but we said it was lend-lease probably it wasn't.

The World and the Mud Puddles

EDEL FORD

The death of Edsel Ford may have a far greater effect upon American industry than the mere passing of one of its outstanding leaders. What the elder Ford now eighty years old, eventually will happen to the vast enterprises which he founded is not likely to remain unanswered for long.

The Ford company is unique in that its stock has been closely held almost entirely by members of the family. No public statement of how much of its control was in the hands of either Edsel or his parent has been made. With inheritance taxes what they are, the slice to be taken from the Seven Hundred Eighteen Million Dollar empire will be tremendous. Who will carry it on. Who CAN carry it on?

The company has been unique in other ways. Nobody has ever been quite able to determine where the leadership of the father began and where it left off. The same has been true of the only son. The executive structure has been kept simplified from its earlier days. The two worked as a team unsurpassed in the history of American industry.

It is interesting to note that the establishment of an industrial enterprise of similar scope today would be virtually impossible. Federal restrictions and taxes would, in the first place, make impossible the accumulation of sufficient capital to develop it. It has epitomized a phase of American life that has disappeared.

There is a paradox, too, in the history of this company, now brought into the public mind by the passing of the founder's heir. It established a Ford daily minimum wage. For that step it received torrents of abuse and predictions of failure from industry and labor alike. For years it led the automotive industry—in fact, all industry—in the payment of high wages. It kept its stock off the market and paid its own way as it went along. It prospered, but it is noteworthy that its great growth and prosperity not only for itself but for the labor which it employed, all was made in the days before the tinkerers and economists and sociological experts took over in Washington.

In industry as a whole, Edsel Ford was a conservative minor figure. But his place in the great industrial empire of his kind in the world was important. Time alone will determine the full effect of his untimely passing.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

What a great world this is going to be after the war—if the dreams of some of our scientists become true!

You have, of course, all seen the drawings of the 1945 model automobiles, as the modernistic designers see it. It looks like a leering monster sitting on its haunches, ready to strike the unwary pedestrian, front and back looking alike. So you can't tell whether it's going or coming.

I'm not very good at statistics, but I think the darn thing is going to be able to go 400 miles an hour and you'll get somewhere around 100 miles to the gallon of gasoline. I don't remember whether that new contraption will also fly and swim, but at any rate, it's going to be something terrific.

Be that as it may, it's really nothing compared with what Dr. Harvey Davis, president of the Stevens Institute, predicts in the way of homes.

The home of the future will be made entirely of paper. After it has served its purpose for three or four years, you can knock it down and get a new one.

Imagine your neighbors going by in 1948 sticking up their noses and saying:

"Look at those poor Joneses, living in a 1945 house. We simply can't be seen associating with them!"

That will be nice, won't it? Every time a new model comes out you owe it to your social standing to get it.

So you pack all your things, you go to a hotel for four or five days while they knock down the old house and put up the new one.

When you unpack everything—the curtains don't fit the new windows, the carpets are too big or too small, and so you live in a constant turmoil—and when you finally get settled next year's model is out and you start all over again.

What about traditions and memories? What about those climbing roses and the ivy and the wisteria?

Do you pack them, too? Do you knock down everything that goes with an old home? The rooms where your children slept when they were babies? The old parlor where so many friends used to come when you were a child?

Please, Dr. Davis, don't make us live in paper houses.

I'd just as soon live in a paper bag.

Employees Cannot Use Cars For Anything Else, New Rule States

City council met Monday in city hall and adopted a resolution prepared by City Solicitor Robert M. White adhering to city-owned motor vehicles' operation as prescribed by the federal government. According to the resolution all city-owned motor vehicles must be operated only for city business and no car or truck shall be garaged other than on city-owned property.

The head of each department is to receive a report each month from the person he designates to have control of the particular car or truck. This report will be sent to Solicitor White and later to the federal agency.

Here are some of the instructions that are compulsory:
 Compile a report of trips operated; total miles operated (in-bound or out-bound); number of units of loads carried (in-bound or out-bound); load capacity of vehicle; gallons of motor fuel used; name of the person charged with the control and care of the vehicle; state speedometer mileage at beginning of each month; mileage operated in city; also mileage operated outside city; number of trips used each day; number of persons carried each trip; times when gas and oil is furnished to the said vehicle; number of gallons and number of coupons used.

A ruling provides a vehicle cannot be used for other than business. Trips home for meals or to be carried to and from work are ruled out. There shall be provided for each vehicle a ration book except those furnished with gas from fleet books of which "track must be kept of" and all must be housed on city property.

Jap Invasion Forces In Retreat On West Hupeh Front; Americans Active In Air

(International News Service)
 CHUNGKING, June 8—Bombers and fighters of the 14th United States Army Air Force are continuing to operate in active support of Chinese ground troops slowly pushing back Japanese invasion forces on the Western Hupeh front, Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's headquarters announced Monday.

Four missions have been successfully completed, a communique said. The first was an attack on the Paikou airdrome near Yochow, where runways and buildings were hit. There was no enemy interception or anti-aircraft fire.

The second raid, made by Curtis Warhawks, damaged approaches to Puchi and destroyed two locomotives on the Canton-Hankow railway between Puchi and Yochow. The third assault strafed enemy river craft between Ichang and Shasi, seriously damaging a large boat and thoroughly raking a gunboat. The fourth onslaught damaged the enemy airfield at Shasi and destroyed a truck operation shack.

Warhawks also strafed a motor center, Japanese personnel and barracks at Tangyang, east of Ichang, destroying 15 trucks and shelters. All planes returned safely, the communique declared.

A Chinese army communique said today that more than 1,000 Japanese fleeing from encircled Itu had been killed and wounded up to yesterday morning.

North of Hunan, the statement continued, Chinese forces virtually have surrounded Ouchikow, midway between Ichang and Hwajung on the Yangtze river.

"Please limit your call to 5 minutes. Others are waiting"

EVEN with a war, we'd like to keep on giving you quick service on Long Distance calls.

Most of them go through all right but some routes are crowded—like the railroads.

When the circuit you want is extra busy, the operator will ask you to limit your Long Distance call to 5 minutes.

It won't happen on all circuits, all the time. But when it does happen, we know you'll understand why.

It will help to give the other fellow a chance. Tomorrow that other fellow may be you.

POLICE and fire protection are a vital part of any town's life, yet how seldom one gives thought to their importance! We just take a policeman or a fireman, and the security they represent, for granted.

And sometimes, it seems that the railroad, too, is thought of in much the same way. People forget what the railroad means to a town's cultural and business life—and they forget the thousands of workers and wealth of material it requires to keep the railroad running. Yet, a moment of serious thinking will convince anyone that the absence of the railroad would make a vast difference in his town's way of life.

Today, B & O's job is Victory. But, while we're giving that job top priority, your town's civilian needs are being cared for, too. And there are sixty thousand of us who are going to see to it that, when the war is won, your town's interests come first with the B & O.

BOY SCOUTS

District Camp-O-Ree
Thursday morning, June 10, the scouts of New Castle will hike to Gaston Park and arrive there between the hours of nine and ten-thirty a. m. They will spend the day in camping, cooking, fire building, playing games and having fun. Each patrol is expected to bring their food for two meals and whatever equipment they decide is necessary. If the patrols have tents, then they should bring them with them and set them up for the day. If they do not have tents, they should come anyway. There will be no over night camping, and this is so that every patrol without equipment can enjoy the chance to camp with other patrols and gain experience.

All patrols will be judged on their merits as campers and the first three place winners will be eligible to take part in the Council Camp-O-Ree, which will be held at the Lawrence County Boy Scout Camp before the regular camping season starts.

Scouters and scoutmasters are invited to attend the Camp-O-Ree with their scouts and they will be shown the other patrols as they are judged. In this way every patrol will learn what the others are doing that is outstanding in camping.

Camp set up, equipment, menus, methods of cooking, cleanliness, leadership will be some of the things judged to determine the winning patrols.

There will be a short meeting of the scouts of the district on the grounds at Gaston Park after the patrols have broken camp. Patrols will break camp at 7:30 and be asked to clear the grounds before nine o'clock.

Members of New Castle Emergency Service Corps will meet on Wednesday evening, June 9, at 7:30, at the scout home to make plans for a camping trip on Saturday, June 12.

Members of the Boy Scout Troop 1 will meet in Mt. Jackson High school Thursday evening promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

Strike Affects
Three Counties

Gas Company And Employees
In Controversy Over
Union Demands

Construction and maintenance men, meter readers, service men and janitors of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company are on strike today in Lawrence, Beaver and Allegheny counties. The strike was called by the Gas Workers Independent Union, of which Glen Boggs of New Brighton is the president. About 100 men are affected of which 23 are located in Lawrence county.

The issues around which the strike reportedly revolves are these: An increase of working hours from 40 to 48 weekly, with time and a half for the eight hours overtime. Reclassification of employees in order that men may be paid at the rate called for by the job they are doing. Adjustment of the quarterly bonus so that it is added to each semi-monthly pay.

"No vital services are being impaired," asserted C. M. Kerr, representative of the employees in Lawrence county. "We will not permit war production to be curtailed and any emergencies will be cared for. The one inconvenience that will be seen is that meters will not be read. In the case of industrial meters they will not record after 36 hours, as they are in graph form, but this will not stop the flow of gas through the lines."

Office help and supervisory personnel are not in the strike, it being confined to meter readers, laborers, construction and maintenance men, service men and the like.

W. A. Battin is the manager of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company here but had no statement to make today. He merely said the strike existed but that he felt a statement from him was unnecessary.

Says Chinese Outfought Japs

Chinese Commander Asserts His Troops Were Out-numbered By Japs

(International News Service)

CHUNGKING, June 8.—Gen. Chen Cheng, commander of the Chinese forces which smashed a Jap attempt to advance on Chungking, declared today that the Chinese who achieved the victory were out-numbered by the invaders.

Confirming earlier reports that the Japanese had sustained in the neighborhood of 30,000 casualties, Gen. Chen said that the Chinese troops outfought the Japs throughout the battle.

Latest reports from the front said that Chinese troops were continuing mopping up operations against the remnants of a Jap force driven from Itu, 22 miles below their main Yangtze river base of Ichang.

Gen. Chen said that the fact that large numbers of Chinese who had been under the thumb of the puppet Nanking regime aided in the victory proved the failure of the Japanese effort to "use Chinese to fight Chinese." His statement was made at Enshih, in Hunan province, at a mass reception given in honor of the victorious Chinese army.

Another military spokesman said that "for the recovery of important China needs a bigger air force and heavy armament including tanks and artillery." He acknowledged that the retreat of the Japanese from the upper Yangtze Valley re-emphasized the danger to the Yangtze lake "rice bowl" area. But he added that Japanese possession of some points on the south bank of the Yangtze remain a menace.

Pittsburgh Youth, Slayer Of Child, On Trial For Life

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Death in the electric chair will be the penalty Earl Perry, 17-year-old confessed slayer of Therese Williams, four-year-old neighbor child, will be asked to pay, it was indicated today as the Pittsburgh youth's first-degree murder trial started.

Assistant District Attorney George F. P. Langitt yesterday sounded out approximately 60 prospective jurors as to their scruples against imposition of the death sentence. Most of the jurors stated they could return such a verdict. Eight women and four men, the completed jury, will be charged with the judgment of Perry.

Perry was arrested a month and a half ago after the badly battered, semi-clad body of the blonde-haired Williams child was found choked to death in the cellar of the youth's home.

Four Seek Quashing Of Indictments In Broenstrupp Case

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Four persons accused of harboring Dr. Victor Broenstrupp, alleged seditionist, today moved in federal court to have indictments pending against them held in abatement or quashed entirely on the ground their constitutional rights are being violated.

Attorneys for Marguerite Marie Carmichael, of Noblesville, Ind.; Victor Warren Hoye, of New Castle; Frank W. Mariner, of Poland, O.; and Henry Herman Meine of New Galilee told the court the indictments against their clients "were obtained by presentment of evidence gathered in violation of rights guaranteed in the constitution."

The motion also claimed the indictments presumed Broenstrupp was a seditionist while he is "still to stand trial."

The quartet was arrested along with Adelaide Marion Pelley, daughter of the convicted silver shirt leader, William Dudley Pelley, on November 25, 1942, on charges of concealing Broenstrupp in adjacent Beaver county when he was a fugitive from justice. All were released on bail.

SHOOT-TO-KILL HUNT FOR JERSEY MONKEY

(International News Service)

WINFIELD TOWNSHIP, N. J., June 8.—Armed with orders, "to shoot to kill" police of Winfield Township, Rahway, Linden and Union County Park sought a small Rhesus monkey named "Mickey" today.

The animal broke a window and escaped from his owner, Herbert Carlson and bit a man and two children who were deceived by its frolicsome manner. Police were told not to attempt to capture the monkey but to shoot it. It hasn't been sighted, however, since the drastic shoot to kill order was issued.

CONSTIPATION'S GONE, HOORAY!

You'd shout, too, if you felt the way I feel now—compared with how I used to feel! Constipation due to lack of "bulk" was the reason. Medicinal laxatives brought me only temporary relief. Then I found out why—they didn't get at the cause!

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN did! And that's because ALL-BRAN is a "bulk-forming" food. Late it regularly, drank plenty of water and—joined the Regulars.

Try ALL-BRAN. It's one of the most wonderful cereals you ever ate! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Novena Triduum At St. Vitus Church

Triduum Starting Thursday In Preparation For Feast Of St. Anthony, June 13

On Thursday evening, June 10, a three day triduum, in preparation for the Feast of St. Anthony will start at St. Vitus church, continuing on Friday and Saturday evenings with the solemn closing of the novena being held on Sunday evening, June 13, the Feast of St. Anthony.

In order to accommodate the large crowds attending services, it has been necessary to conduct two services every Tuesday evening, during the thirteen weeks of the St. Anthony novena, and during the triduum of prayer, two services will also be conducted nightly at 6:30 o'clock, and 8 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, pastor and his assistant, Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso, will be in charge of services.

Confessions will be heard after the services, and all those making the novena are to receive holy communion, in honor of the intention for the novena. Persons making the novena are bound to make the three-day triduum of prayer, in order to receive full indulgences; but those unable to have attended for the past thirteen Tuesdays, may attend the triduum of prayer.

The shrine of St. Anthony will be appropriately decorated for the occasion, and it is expected that more than ever this year, many devout will attend to offer prayers to St. Anthony of Padua.

On Sunday morning, there will be four masses celebrated, instead of three. At the first mass, 6:30 a. m., the Mother of Sinners group will receive a holy communion in a body. The 8 o'clock mass will be celebrated for all the intentions of those making the novena; 9:30 o'clock children's mass, and the 11 o'clock mass will be a high mass.

Sunday evening, the St. Anthony novena will come to a solemn closing with two services at 6:30 and 8 o'clock.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

as a better democrat than President Roosevelt is.

Congress idea today is to create an inter-legislative-executive organization that will keep the two branches in touch. It isn't to provoke conflict between them, but to co-ordinate the pair.

The judiciary doesn't figure much at present, however. The situation is versus executive and legislative. The legislative to grant authority and provide the cash. The executive folk are to deliver the goods.

Prime Minister Churchill subordinates himself, exclusively, to the legislature. Consequently, his program is to tell parliament as a member of it what he and his country needs. President Roosevelt's is to DEMAND what he requires as a military commander.

From a local standpoint, Winnie Churchill is diplomatic about it. He EXPLAINS to parliament. President Roosevelt is peremptory. He makes congress sore.

Furthermore, Franklin tells congress what he wants—or else. Winnie tells WHY.

Winnie also is affable. Franklin is thought by many as overbearing. "One of them is a democrat—Winnie. The other is dictatorial—Franklin."

Congress is democratic—in the long run.

It would be cute, if possible, to substitute Winnie Churchill for Franklin Roosevelt, as post-war world-administrator later on.

Scarcely needful so say, we wouldn't all agree to it.

Even congress wouldn't acquiesce. Nevertheless, I will bet that he would be acceptable on Capitol Hill as a fair compromise.

MAN ANNOYING MANY PITTSBURGH WOMEN IS REPORTED TRAPPED

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—A 28-year-old father of three children was held today on a charge of telephoning and writing lewd letters to scores of Pittsburgh women who had lost jewelry during the past month.

The prisoner was identified as Bernard McCue, an electrician, and he was captured by postal inspectors by a ruse last night after several previous traps had been set in vain for the man who had been annoying the women.

The postal authorities said McCue telephoned women who had advertised in local newspapers for lost jewelry and informed them in lewd and obscene language that he had found the missing articles.

The suspect was captured when government authorities sent a decoy to meet McCue.

OPA LAUGHS LAST AT PITTSBURGH'S PLEASURE DRIVERS

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—Special Hearings Officer John A. Metz Jr. frequently finds his sense of humor on trial during a session of the new OPA night court, but the laugh is always on the violators of the government's non-essential driving ban.

Metz last night ruled successively against a motorcycle cowboy who took his girl friend for a joyride, a pigeon fancier who wanted to know if it was all right for him to take his pigeons for an automobile airing and a vendor who wanted to sell him some bobby pins.

The OPA's chief rationing attorney in Pittsburgh took it all in good stride, but was soon heading for a drugstore after the session—probably to get an aspirin.

FORFEITS BOND

Police last night went to an alley north of West Washington street, near Beaver street, in response to a complaint that a fight between three men was in progress. They caught one man who gave the name of "John Talabrese" who placed a cash bond of $25.00 for his appearance in police court today but failed to appear. The bond was confiscated.

Two meetings have been scheduled by the Lawrence County Agricultural Extension Association, for Wednesday, when "Making of grass silage" will be discussed.

Crops which may be put into the silo, methods of harvesting and preparing feeding values of grass silage, the relation of grass to a shortage of protein feeds, will be among the points to be discussed.

J. B. R. Dickey, extension agronomist of Penn State College will lead the discussion.

The first meeting will be at 1 p. m. at the farm of W. A. Gwin, one-half mile south of Bessemer, and the second will be at 7:30 p. m. at the farm of Stewart Hunt, just off the Harlansburg road near Liberty Grange Hall.

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, June 8.—New assaults by Allied heavy bombers on Japanese bases and airfields at Lae, Wewak and Madang, during a day of air activity confined to New Guinea, were announced today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

At Lae, high explosives dropped on airfield, dispersal and building areas started a large fire near the runway. Clouds prevented assessment of damage wrought on the town area at Wewak. Bombs kindled big fires at Madang, where airfield dispersal areas, the jetty and nearby village were raked.

Attack planes supporting Allied ground forces bombed and heavily strafed enemy installations at strategic Green's Hill in the Mubo area. A single heavy bomber strafed three loaded motor barges in the Sepik River, setting two afire.

Nazi Dictator Of Dutch Agriculture
Killed By Patriots(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM, June 8.—Dr. Folkert E. Posthumus, Nazi dictator of Dutch agriculture, was shot and killed by Netherlands patriots last Thursday, the Dutch news service Aneta reported Monday.

The Aneta correspondent learned that Posthumus's assailant fired several shots, severely wounding Posthumus, who died somewhat later. The German police in occupied Holland claim to have the description of the attackers.

Posthumus was made leader of the National Socialist "agricultural front" soon after the German invasion. In 1941 he was made virtual dictator of agriculture in Holland. Early this year Anton Mussert, Dutch Nazi chieftain, appointed him member for agriculture and fisheries in his so-called "secretariat of state."

The death of Posthumus brought to five the number of Dutch Nazi leaders attacked during recent months.

Dr. Posthumus was 69 years of age. He was Netherlands minister of agriculture during the first world war, but later became an adherent of the Nazis.

Change In Truck Tire Inspections

Operators of commercial vehicles in the Youngstown district are required now to have their tires inspected every 5,000 miles or six months, whichever comes first, between inspections, Harry G. Boyd, district manager of the Office of Defense Transportation announced today.

Previously commercial vehicles had to have tire inspections made every 5,000 miles or every 60 days whichever occurred first.

The time extension was made, Mr. Boyd said, to relieve low mileage operators from unnecessarily frequent trips to their tire inspection stations. The action was taken in amendment 6 to General Order ODT No. 21.

The Youngstown ODT district covers operations in the following counties: Mahoning, Trumbull and Columbiana in Ohio and Lawrence and Mercer in Pennsylvania.

Postpone Further
Income Tax Rise
Until Next YearEven If Tax Increase Must Be Passed, Effective Date Will Be In 1944By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Rep. Knutson of Minnesota, ranking Republican on the house ways and means committee, today disclosed that an agreement has been reached between congressional fiscal experts that any further increase in federal income taxes will be postponed until next year.

Following conferences with Chairman George (D. Ga.) of the senate finance committee and Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) of the house ways and means committee, Knutson made this statement:

"We are agreed that even if it is necessary to write income tax increases into the revenue bill this fall, the effective date will be postponed until next year. A retroactive bill, such as we passed late last year, is definitely out."

President Roosevelt has asked that an additional $16,000,000,000 be raised this year. So far, congress has only satisfied that request to the extent of approximately $3,800,000,000, the sum additional which is expected to be collected this year by passage of pay-as-you-go tax legislation.

The treasury is understood to now be preparing proposals for raising the difference and these are slated to be submitted to the ways and means committee when it reconvenes later this year, probably after Labor Day, to start hearings on a new revenue bill.

(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A FLYING Fortress BASE SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, June 8.—The famed Flying Fortress Memphis Belle and her crew, headed by Capt. Robert K. Morgan of Asheville, N. C., will go home to the United States in the near future, the U. S. Army Air Corps revealed Monday.

The Memphis Belle was flown over here by Morgan. Each member of the crew has received the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Morgan particularly is proud of the fact that he has had only one wounded man aboard his ship despite a great many raids.

The plane also has another distinction in that it completes its career with four captains aboard. Morgan's original co-pilot, James Verinis of New Haven, Conn., now is a first pilot, while the other captains are Vincent Evans of Henderson, Texas, his bombardier, and Charles Leighton of East Lansing, Mich.

Other members of the crew include technical sergeant Robert J. Hanson of Walla Walla, Wash., and Harold P. Lott of Green Bay, Wis., and staff sergeant John Quinlan of Yonkers, N. Y., and Clarence Winchell of Oak Park, Ill.

PITTSBURGH, June 8.—A Chicago truck driver was sentenced to eight months in jail and three months in federal court Monday for participating in a gasoline black market.

Judge P. P. Schoonmaker remanded George Turjak, 25, of Chicago, to prison for eight months after the truck driver was convicted of selling 25 sheets of "T" ration coupons—enough to buy 3,000 gallons—to George Jackson, 38, who in turn, sold them to Roy E. Smith, operator of a Pittsburgh service station.

Louis G. Fendman, OPA enforcement officer, who testified at the trial that Smith completed the sale by turning over some of the coupons to John J. Brant, a Pittsburgh motorist, Smith Jackson and Brant were all given three months.

Report Discovery Of Double Star

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 8.—The discovery of a new double star possibly weighing one hundred times as much as the sun was announced today in the Astrophysical Journal.

If the calculations of the discoverer, Dr. Daniel M. Popper, instructor in astronomy at the University of Chicago, are correct, the double star would be in the neighborhood of 200 billion billion miles from earth.

The new twin star, designated as Ry in the constellation scutum, really is two stars, Dr. Popper said, and one of them is invisible. Its presence was inferred, however, from the observed circular motion of the brighter star and the fact that the invisible star, with each revolution in its orbit, eclipses the visible component.

Enrollment Cards Mailed In Special Food Planting Drive

Farmers Must Return Them To AAA Office Here By
Last Of Month

Cards have been mailed from the Agricultural Conservation office to farmers having Irish potato or fresh vegetable goals in the government program to encourage an increase in plantings of these war crops, according to Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the Lawrence county committee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

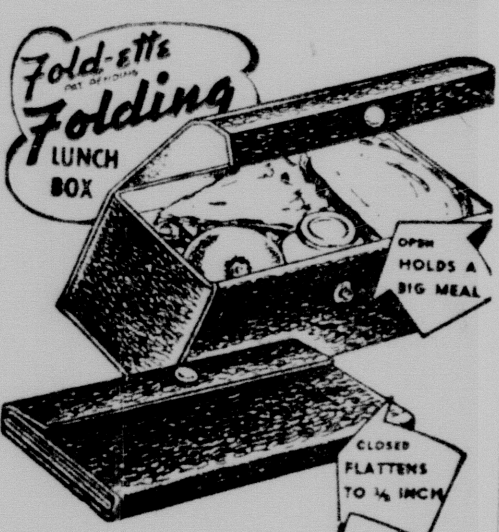

The card becomes a notice to the government of a farmer's intention to participate in the potato or truck crop programs when signed by the farmer and returned to the county office, he explained, and this must be done by June 30 in order that the farmer may receive a production payment. It should be returned to the county office even if the farmer at an earlier date has completed the Farm Practice Plan, or has placed an order for conservation materials in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Because of the AAA's drive in increasing potato acreage with production payments and a price support program, the consumer is assured of an adequate potato supply and is protected from inflation prices by the government's ceiling price program. Through the support price program, the government will offer to buy U. S. No. 1's this September at $1.26 per bushel.

All farmers who plant over 27 acres of either Irish potatoes or certain vegetables for fresh consumption are eligible for a goal in the program and may earn a government production payment by increasing their planted acreage of these crops. The fresh vegetables named in the program are carrots, snap beans, lima beans, beets, tomatoes, cabbage, onions and green peas.

When taken from its native waters the shrimp looks like a small lobster without claws. His transparent protective shell is a greenish-gray, and the head is adorned with two feelers or antennae which are about the same length as the body.

Activities Of OCD Workers
Are Outlined Here

The protection of forests from fire is an important part of national defense work, and still more important in local community defense. The Forest Fire Fighter Service is an essential aid to the State Forest Protection organization because both are interested in fire prevention, not only in time of war but all of the time.

The Forest Fire Fighter Service is now being established in Lawrence county and the state chief of FFPS, George H. Wirt, requests that recruiting, training and enrollment of volunteers for the service be completed in the counties very soon in preparation for the fall forest fire season.

The chairman of each local Council of defense is being called upon to appoint a chief of Forest Fire Fighter Service and to instruct him in turn to enroll 10 or more men as his workers. When these appointments are made, please notify me promptly so that the training of these individuals can begin immediately.

Jane Cochran, appointed recently by council as the city OCD clerk, has assumed her new duties.

There will be several meetings tonight as follows: 6-2, refresher gas and warden's class at the Sampson street post; warden's class at the stadium, and also at the city building. On Thursday night there will be similar meetings in the Lincoln Garfield school and city building. All the meetings are timed for 8 o'clock.

There will be a meeting of Air Raid Warden Post 8-1, Tuesday evening at 8:30, o'clock, in the basement of St. Vitus church.

MILK

Long centuries of experience have demonstrated that milk is a very good food.

The milk of each kind of animal seems to be peculiarly adapted for its young.

It seems that people have adapted themselves to the use of cows milk. They get along with it very nicely.

Experts have calculated that young people need at least a quart and adults need a pint each day.

The vitamins and chemicals in milk are very valuable and necessary. It contains considerable nourishment too.

Milk supplies material for making bones and teeth. The vitamins help to protect the body from disease.

Licensed milk dealers supply our city with over 15,000 quarts of fresh milk daily.

It is very evident that our people are not getting as much fresh milk as they need.

Are you getting a pint of milk every day? Is every child in New Castle getting a quart? Your pint can be used in various ways. It may be used in cooking. You can use it in pies or custards, in soup or ice cream.

Even accounting for canned milk, ice cream and other milk products, our people are not using enough milk to win this war.

Service Men May Appear In Civil Suits, Is Ruling

Supreme Court Interprets Soldiers And Sailors Relief Act Broadly

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Supreme court on Monday ruled that Congress has given courts discretion under the Soldiers and Sailors Relief act to decide whether service men should appear and defend civil suits.

The court upheld a decision of the North Carolina Supreme court in a suit involving Maj. Daniel F. Boone, stationed in Washington, with the Army services of supply.

A judgment of $11,940 was entered in a suit begun against Boone in Polk County, N. C., and transferred to Henderson county. He was removed as trustee of a fund for his minor daughter, totalling $15,000. He also was held liable for loss of $11,000.

He pleaded for continuance of the case until after the war or until such time as his military service made it possible for him to appear. The court ruled that he was able to conduct his defense despite his military service.

"The Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Relief act is always to be liberally construed to protect those who have been obliged to drop their affairs to take up the burdens of the nation," said the opinion read by Justice Jackson.

"The discretion that is vested in courts to that end is not to be withheld on nice calculations as to whether prejudice may result from absence, or absence result from the service... but in some few cases absence may be a policy instead of the result of military service, and discretion is vested in the courts to see that the immunities of the act are not put to such unworthy use."

The Government warns that the average adult needs 90 quarts of fruits and vegetables per year. You may not be able to get them for your family on your ration coupons, but you can protect the family's health through home-canning.

Specifically, each adult should have: 25 quarts of tomatoes and tomato juice, 30 quarts of fruit and fruit juice, 15 quarts of green and yellow vegetables, 10 quarts of other vegetables, 10 quarts of leafy greens.

Grow all of these you can. Buy all that is seasonable... and make sure next fall and winter that your family gets a well balanced diet. And check with the Home Service Department of your Gas company for any information on your canning problems. They'll be glad to help you.

Enjoy the economy of driving a high-quality, late-model Used Studebaker

Engineered to save you
tires and gas

GOOD used cars of all makes are getting scarce. But if you have a choice, make sure the used car you buy is a Studebaker.

Thousands of motorists are now driving used Studebakers because of the remarkable tire economy and gas economy assured by Studebaker engineering.

There's no needless bulk in a Studebaker to overload its tires or overtax its gas supply. And the high quality of Studebaker materials and craftsmanship keeps repair costs down.

Come in and make a selection from our stock of used Studebaker Champions, Commanders and Presidents. We carry good used cars of other makes—and you need no special authorization to buy one.

NEW CAR RATIONING LIBERALIZED!

A whole new group of motorists can now acquire new 1942-model Studebakers, thanks to revised rationing regulations. In general, you are eligible if you come within the preferred mileage provisions for gasoline and your car is a 1939 or earlier model—or has been driven more than 40,000 miles, regardless of its age. If you are eligible, apply now.

America's greatest group of craftsmen built our used Studebakers—Their painstaking workmanship is reflected in the top resale prices that used Studebakers command, should it become necessary to sell yours. There's a lot of unused mileage in every used Studebaker.

Used Studebakers hold the road remarkably on curves—That's because of the advanced thinking Studebaker engineers have been doing for years in the interest of greater stability. Used Studebakers are the only used cars with self-stabilizing planar front end suspension.

Studebaker trunks give you a lot of extra room—A big trunk means a great deal to many of us these war days when cars have to do extra duty delivering things. You get an unusual amount of trunk space in a used Studebaker.

Name Stuhldreher To Coach College All-Star Squad

Ex-Notre Damer Will Direct Team In Grid Feature

Rah-Rah Boys To Face Washington Redskins, Pro League Champions

GAME ON AUG. 25 AT EVANSTON, ILL.

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 8.—Harry Stuhldreher, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Wisconsin, today was named head coach of the college all-stars who will play the champion Washington Redskins in the annual all-star football game.

The contest this year will be staged at Soldier Field, Evanston, Ill., instead of at Soldier Field, Chicago, as formerly, and will be played the night of Aug. 25.

Stuhldreher, who last season gave Wisconsin its most successful football team since 1912, was not dissuaded by the task before him.

The Washington Redskins in 1942 were a great football team, he admitted. "They had to be to win the championship of professional football from the Chicago Bears. I am hopeful, however, that we can spring as big a surprise on the Redskins as they did on the Bears."

The Badger coach will have a staff of four prominent college coaches from other parts of the country to aid him. The college squad will report to him Aug. 7 at Northwestern university.

Stuhldreher, who became coach at Wisconsin in 1936, was quarterback of Notre Dame's famous "Four Horsemen" team in 1924.

Sylvan Heights League To Open

The schedule will find United Engineering opposing Standard Steel Spring, Fredians meeting Sagerstons, Unions opposing New Castle Moose, and Shelby Social drawing a bye.

DORAZIO WHIPS LEM FRANKLIN

Gus Finds Limbering Lem Inviting Target During 10-Round Bout

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 8.—Gus Dorazio, veteran Philadelphia heavyweight, boasted a decisive 10-round victory today over Lem Franklin, heavy-hitting Cleveland Negro.

Dorazio found the limbering Franklin a set-up for a left-hook head and body with southpaw hooks throughout their bout last night.

Franklin, fully occupied defending himself, never was able to get his dangerous right to work on the bobbing, weaving Philadelphian. Dorazio dropped Franklin in the eighth with a right hand shot to the body and fell on top of him. It was the only knockdown of the fight, and both were up as the timekeeper began the count.

A crowd of 5,315 witnessed the battle.

Over 3 Dozen Colleges To Vie In Saturday Meet

Northwestern's Dyche Stadium Scene Of Gigantic Track-Field Contests

(International News Service)
EVANSTON, Ill., June 8.—From 35 to 40 colleges and universities will be represented Friday and Saturday in the 22nd annual National Collegiate A. A. track meet in Northwestern university's Dyche stadium, K. L. Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern, predicted today.

Four champions are slated to defend their crowns. They are Harold Davis of California, Dai Dupre of Ohio State, Jack Deifel of Minnesota and Clifford Bourland of Southern California.

Rate Contestant

Davis will try to keep his grip on the 100-yard and 220-yard sprint titles he won last summer at Lincoln, Neb. Dupre will defend the broad jump title he won last June with a mark of 24 feet 3 1/4 inches.

Dupre will surprise if he retains the championship as one of his rivals will be Ralph Tate of Oklahoma A. & M., who won the Drake relay jump at 24 feet 7 1/4 inches, and even this is not his best mark.

Bourland is holder of the NCAA 440-yard dash title in the comparatively slow time of 48 and 2-10 seconds. Deifel holds the pole vault championship at 14 feet 1 inch.

Today there arrived a letter from our friend Jimmy Dunn, Los Angeles, who reports that he is kept busy galavanting up and down the Pacific slope and when he can find time he intends to journey east and hopes to show a second "Heavy" triumph in New Castle. He is Red Nibert, a light-heavyweight.

Dunn reports that Red recently lost a close decision to a fighter named Worlds who a short time previous gave Turkey Thompson a great fight. "You'll like Red," Dunn writes. "He says that Ed Ford, another light-heavy is kept busy, and he has a baiter, Red Barker who is a second Cal Tremaine (as if such a thing is possible)."

Remember when the fights were staged in the Bell Baking lot (street)? Ever notice that good looking black-haired kid who "hustled the peanuts and soft drinks"? Well, that was Buster Pagley, now Sergeant Pagley. If you please, and approximately 2 cwt and in England. He joined the local troop. His uncle, Tommy (Pagley) is a corporal and the company's clerk. They've been in more than two years, like the other boys. Uncle and nephew have occupied the same tent. It is seldom that two so close are able to stay together.

Recently there came a couple of letters from Over There. The old company isn't the same. Many of the boys who left here are now with other outfits. However, there is a good crowd of them still together and this is being written to let the McPhersons, McGiverns, Captain Eakin and the boys know they're not forgotten. They've been gone for some time. The News goes there and as soon as it does some of the boys go for it fast because it keeps them in touch with the boys they knew back here. When they read the Men in Service column, also other columns, they can see "Who's Going" and "Who's Gone"; also what's going on Over Here.

QUICK PICKUPS:

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 8.—After Count Fleet won the Belmont Stakes, turning in the time of 2:28 1-5 for the mile and a half, some cynical soul asked Jockey John Longden why the Count failed to break the track record of 2:27 3-5 by Boldenbroke.

Longden's answer was casual and sped true to the mark. "It's a long summer," replied the English pilot. "We're trying to beat horses. Why run against the clock and risk injury when the coil can win in a breeze?"

With this victory he joins Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Omaha, War Admiral and Whirlaway as winners of the coveted triple crown. The Derby, Preakness and Belmont. He chalked up another record by establishing himself as the only horse beside Sir Barton to win those three plus the Withers.

Earnings $250,300.
By winning $35,340 at Belmont, the Count raises his total to $250,300, which is much better than Whirlaway, the world's best money-maker, did at a corresponding time in his own career.

NATE BOLDEN WINS

CHICAGO, June 8.—Nate Bolden, Chicago, handed Freddie Fildula of New York a 10-round whipping last night in Chicago.

Born a southpaw, Lyons broke his left arm at the age of nine and switched over to the right wing for his throwing. By constant practice, he made a good job of changing, and today he is reputed to have one of the best throwing arms in the minors.

High School Pitcher
Until eight years ago, the Kansas City outfielder was a pitcher in high school and amateur circles around Los Angeles. Rubie Ellis, a former big leaguer, and Oscar Reichow, then business manager of the Los Angeles club, advised him to try the outfield. He was a good hitter and owned a great arm.

Another switch was made, and after two years at Joplin in the Western Association, Lyons moved away from the parent New York Yankees. The game lost a potential southpaw hurler and gained a stout-armed hitting outfielder.

JACOBS SLIPPING?
It might be that promoter Mike Jacobs is losing his grip. He drew a small house for the Phil Terranova-Chalky Wright contest last Friday, and this came not long after he was outbid for the services of Willie Pep and Sal Bartolo, who will soon meet in Boston. In addition to this, the New York newspapers have been doing some muttering about the mixup in titles in the various divisions. There are championships in this locality (Massachusetts) will have two feather titlists after the Pep-Bartolo scrap) that fans will get tired of it all.

In his interview after coming to New York, newspapermen were informed that Gunder Haegg was a fireman in Gavle, Sweden. "What does he do?" was the question put to the interpreter. The interpreter talked for some while with Haegg, then turned and said, "he puts out fires."

Gunder Haegg To Make Debut In A. A. U. Meet

Swede Running Specialist Looks Forward To Race With Greg Rice

AVOIDS PREDICTIONS

By LEWIS BURTON
(International News Service Writer)

NEW YORK, June 8.—Gunder Haegg, Swedish holder of seven world's distance records, today expressed the hope of competing against America's Greg Rice in a 5,000-meter race—but it all depends on how the visitor finds training in this country.

Haegg's first appearance will be with the National AAU championships, June 19-20, at New York's Randall Island stadium. He indicated that the outcome of training will determine whether his first opponent will be Rice, who met him at the airport, or Gil Dodds in the 1,500-meter race.

Haegg came equipped with one American word, "today," and two pair of white antelope-skin shoes, with which he would have preferred to do his talking. He answered several hundred questions through an interpreter, Sven Dahlman, the first secretary of the Swedish legation in Washington.

Although he holds records ranging up to 5,000 meters, which is more than three miles, Gunder likes the mile run best. He thinks in metric terms, however. He regards his record of 3:45.8 for 1,500 meters as the most difficult to improve. He thinks a four-minute mile is possible, but not for himself. His record is 4:04.6.

Cautionally, he avoided a promise of record performances here. He said he is past his peak—"too old." He was 24 on December 31. At 24 or 25, he suggested, it's time to be writing about records, not making them.

His marks include 5:11.8 for 2,000 meters, 8:01.2 for 3,000 meters, 8:47.8 for two miles, 13:32.4 for three miles, 13:58.2 for 5,000 meters. His entire tour will be for the benefit of the Army air forces aid society. Meets are being arranged in Chicago, July 3; Los Angeles, July 10; San Francisco, July 17; Boston, July 24; and Washington, Pittsburgh and Cleveland.

It will take six weeks for him to reach top shape, he said. The heat frightens him. He found it depressing in New Orleans. He was born in frigid Jantland, a north-Swedish province and prefers the cold. He skis exceptionally well, though as a world's champion in footracing he doesn't consider himself very good that sport. Nevertheless he placed second in an 18-mile for the championship of a district that has the best skiers in his country.

Lefty Breaks Arm; Develops Into Righthander

Kansas City Player Pitcher Until Accident; Now Shags Fly Balls

The best laid plans of mice and men still go haywire at times. Nature intended for Al Lyons of the Kansas City Blues to be a left-hander. Lyons, personally, intended to be a pitcher. So what happens? Al Lyons is an outfielder and he's righthanded.

Born a southpaw, Lyons broke his left arm at the age of nine and switched over to the right wing for his throwing. By constant practice, he made a good job of changing, and today he is reputed to have one of the best throwing arms in the minors.
